

Tresidder Insurance Group Security Statement

The security of your personal information is critical to us at Tresidders.

We take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information that we store from misuse, interference, loss and from any unauthorised access, alteration, and disclosure.

We maintain our computer and network systems securely by utilising state of the art information technology (IT) security measures, which are reviewed and updated on a regular basis.

These protocols and techniques allow us to keep your personal information secure, while providing you with our quality products and services.

We will, where required by applicable Privacy Law, as soon as reasonably possible, notify you of any material security breach concerning your personal information.
